

Learning to Live

A human life is meant to be one of joy and cheer, dynamic action and mental peace. Above all, a human being alone can aspire for and achieve the highest state of Perfection. However, human life today is mostly one of stress and strain, worry and anxiety. People lack productivity at work and harmony in their relationships. A situation created by the lack of education on the essential principles of life and living.

Vedanta, is the science of life and living. It is a systematic knowledge that presents the truths of life methodically and logically. Vedanta equips one with the ability to make the right choices in life. It teaches the technique of ideal action so as to achieve productivity and peace.

Above all, Vedanta helps you identify your divine Self, the state of absolute peace and bliss. The knowledge thus satisfies your material and spiritual needs.

Weekly study classes on Vedanta are conducted in different parts of Pune by alumni of the Vedanta Academy. The sessions are held in a discussion format and are open to all. The classes are conducted on select texts written by renowned Vedanta philosopher, Swami A. Parthasarathy. The recommended sequence of study of the first four texts is:

1. The Fall of the Human Intellect
2. Governing Business & Relationships
3. The Holocaust of Attachment
4. Vedanta Treatise: The Eternities
